

Amazing life transformations... and all they did was Learn to Draw.

How art influenced six dramatic life changes

For 16 years, Sandra Angelo has been teaching people, who have no perceptible drawing talent, with a super, simple 4-step system.

I thought I was just teaching drawing but I have been astounded at the life transformations that are occurring in the process.

- Marsha Vanetsky, a research scientist came to class only to learn how to color rubber stamps... after taking my full curriculum, her art hangs in the Smithsonian.
- Nita Draut, showed up at age 70 with no drawing ability. At age 80, she has completed close to 300 stunning, lifelike portraits & is still drawing daily.
- Dr. Robert Reed, a psychologist has been recommending my programs for 10 years. i.e. A lawyer spent 25 years in therapy with no change. When Dr. Reed combined my drawing program with a rapid eye movement therapy, the trauma was unlocked in 6 weeks – Dr. Reed has numerous examples and is willing to discuss, (No names to preserve patient privacy of course.)
- A 17 year old student Grant Pecoff studies Art and Marketing with Sandra... Now at age 34, he earns handsome income traveling the world and painting full time; even has his own gallery in Scottsdale.
- Kathy Napier, a caregiver uses art to siphon off stress and take vacations without leaving the room
- A bipolar student told me he had to work 16 hours to siphon off his mania. After learning to draw, he's so relaxed he is down to one 8 hour job.

Sandra can provide numerous audio, video and written testimonials, plus additional life changes and students who are willing to appear on TV or talk to reporters.
